SIX LEGS AND TWO TAILS. Mr. Taggart the Unwilling Possesso of a Bull Freak.

Robert Taggart, who keeps a storage warehouse at 593 Hudson street, has a white elephant on his hands, or rather a white elephant on his hands, or rather a white bull, which, although a curiosity in many respects, is nevertheless a source of great discomfort to him, as the bull is possessed of a prodigious appetite, which Mr. Targart is wearled of satisfying.

The curious features of the animal is that it is the proud owner of two tails and a double set of hind legs.

It was brought to his warehouse three months ago by a Montana farmer named Haw, who said that the bull was worth $10,000, and that he was going to make a fortune.

fortune.

Somehow he and the fortune didn't conmeet, and Mr. Haw went broke.

He tried to negotiate a loan on the bull from the pawnbrokers, but they declined any assistance, so Mr. Haw put the bull on Two of the bull's hind legs are not per-fectly developed, but nevertheless he can leap a five-barred gate sasily. Unless the owner puts in an appearance very soon Mr. Taggark will sell the bull to pay storage expenses.

WOODRUFF, NOT BALDWIN.

President for 1890 of the King's County Republican Committee. Three hundred and seventy-nine dele-The County Democracy holds its primaries this evening but the indications are that they won't be quite as hot as those held by port of Franklin Woodruff, President of the Republicans County Republican Committee.

David A. Baldwin contested the election to this position with Mr. Woodruff, He had many enthusiastic supporters, receiving 169.

David A. Baldwin contested the election to this position with Mr. Woodruff. He had many such unitsets outpoorters, receiving 160 districts.

In the Thirteenth, Civil Justice John John Mr. Woodruff. 210. The hatchet was buried, however, after the balloting and harmony prevails on the surface of Brooklyn Republican politics.

The convention took place last evening in the Athenaum, and though there was some throughout there was some throughout there was some throughout the surface and a good deal of talk about boodle, it was very harmonious—for a convention.

Mercurial Rheumatism Mr. J. C. Jones, City Marshal of Fulton, Arkansas, srites: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe ase of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, and they prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without affording me any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remeics, with the same unsuccessful result, but which rought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that mads my life one of untold ageny. After suffering for four years I gare up all former remedies and commenced taking Swifts Specifo (S. S. S.). After taking several bottles I was entirely cured and abie o resume work.
